

WILL COMPLETE FELT BUILDING

Work on New Office Structure to Be Pushed as Rapidly as Possible.

Architect R. Kietling has completed the drawings for the new building to be erected on Main street just north of the Boston block for the Salisbury company, and the general contract for the construction of the block was let the first of the week to the Whitney-Steele company of New York. The building is to be five stories high. The dimensions of the building will be 60 feet by 145 feet. It will cost approximately $175,000.

The plans call for a fireproof structure of the steel cage type. A feature of the construction will be a special composition used in the making of the concrete floors to deaden the sound. The walls will be of reinforced concrete and will be arranged to suit the tenants. The lower floor of the block will be divided into three stories. The other floors will be arranged for office use.

Enamelled terra cotta is the material to be used in the front of the structure, and the exterior construction of the remainder of the building will be of light colored brick. The entrance to the building will be in white Italian marble, and will lead down to the basement, where it is planned to have an elegantly appointed cafe.

The new structure will be called the Felt building and is to be named for C. B. Felt, secretary of the Salisbury company. The contract states that the construction will be completed and ready for occupancy by Dec. 1, and that the office floors must be completed by the 1st of February. The Salisbury company will occupy office space on the second floor.

Announcement was also made yesterday that the Salisbury company is to build a fine office block on the corner of Park avenue and A street in Idaho Falls, Idaho, to cost about $250,000. Monson & Schaub of Salt Lake, designers of the Vermont building, were the architects for this structure.

MURRAY.

Councilmen Frank Howe and James Godfrey are erecting an electric power plant on the street of the Little Cottonwood creek which runs through the Godfrey farm. The plant will be completed within the next three weeks and the machinery has now arrived and the work of completing the project is being rushed. When in operation the plant will furnish twelve families with electricity and the various ward houses in that district will be equipped with electric lights.

The funeral of Hyrum, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Edmund, who died Tuesday, was held yesterday afternoon from the Granger ward meeting house. Interment was made in the Granger cemetery.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. E. Jensen, the aged resident of Union who succumbed Tuesday, were held yesterday from the Union ward house. Bishop Bergan officiated at the services and members of the ward sang the remarks over the body. The services were largely attended. Burial was made in the Big Cottonwood cemetery.

The body of Charles Stromstrom, who died Tuesday from cancer of the stomach, was taken to Sandy, where funeral services were held. The services were conducted from the Sandy meeting house and were largely attended. Burial was made at Sandy.

MANY SCHOOL CHILDREN ENGAGE IN MAN HUNT

More than a hundred school children, led by uniformed patrolmen, engaged in a hunt for a supposed burglar yesterday afternoon after report had been made at police headquarters of the intruder's attempted entrance in the home of Mrs. William Screaver, 445 Elm street.

Mrs. Mary Bantley, a neighbor, telephoned to headquarters that she was positive of seeing a stranger, who bore all outward evidence of being a real burglar, crawl down a coal chute leading to the basement of the Screaver home.

Instantly a squad of patrolmen was hurried to the neighborhood in the wagon. Slight of the uniformed minions of the law attracted youngsters from the Fremont school, which had just closed.

One by one they joined in the man hunt, and as the patrolmen moved about in the vicinity they found air juvenile posse increasing until it numbered more than a hundred. The youngsters grew enthusiastic in their sleuthing for operations but were doomed to disappointment at the end of the search, when the patrolmen assured themselves that the supposed burglar was nowhere on the premises.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32 up Main street, $5.00 per year and upwards.

WINNIFRED RULE FINDS HAPPINESS SHORTLIVED

Winnifred Rule asks for a divorce, alleging that Charles B. Rule, whom she married at Salt Lake Feb. 15, 1908, began to beat her in December, and on the 18th of that month knocked her down and choked her, calling her vile names and threatening her life. She avers that she cannot safely live with him any longer, and, anyway, he doesn't provide any support and hasn't since December, when the cruelty began. She asks for the custody of her two children, a son, a boy six months old. She asks for $30 a month temporary alimony, and $150 attorney's fees, as well as the household furniture, worth about $50.

North Bench Bungalows

Have you seen the new south front bungalows we have for sale on the North Bench? From the large front porches, 30 feet by 10 feet, you have a most beautiful view of the mountains, city, valley and lake. Such a home is just the place for rest and recreation after the day's work is over. Here you have all of the city conveniences with the additional advantage of having pure, healthful, country air.

Owing to atmospheric conditions, it is impossible to eliminate the smoke from the lower districts of the city. While your business may call you in to the smoke district, it is not necessary for your wife and family to live in it. These bungalows are but one short block from the new 9th Ave. car line, which is to be installed this summer. They are also within easy walking distance to the business district.

On Tenth Avenue between C and D streets, four fine five and six-room, south front, red brick bungalows. One short block from new Ninth avenue car line. Halls, living rooms and dining rooms have fir finish, stained mission. Dining rooms have beam ceilings, plate rails and paneled walls. Large bath rooms, kitchen pantries with bins, drawers and shelves. Every convenience. Wired for electric lights. Large front porches, 30 feet by 10 feet. Back porches screened in. Prices $3,500.00 to $4,500.00.
